DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1, 5-8, and 19-25, drawn to a method for identifying a protein, a method for identifying a nucleic acid and an isolated protein.

Group II, claims 9-18, and 26-35, drawn to an isolated nucleic acid, a genetically modified plant cell and a genetically modified plant.

The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Invention I is drawn to a method for identifying a protein based on binding proteins and deducing amino acid sequences. Invention I requires method steps and materials not required by Invention II and does not relate to Invention II. Invention I does not require the plant transformation steps and materials of Invention II.

Invention II is drawn to nucleic acids and expressing nucleic acids in genetically modified plants. Invention II requires plant transformation steps and materials not required by Invention I and because it does not involve protein binding steps does not relate to Invention I.

For the reasons given above, Inventions I and II do not share a technical feature and thus lack unity of invention. It is further noted that a search for proteins and protein methods would be completely separate from a search for nucleic acids and transforming plants and expressing said nucleic acids. Given the above, restriction is therefore proper.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and/or examination burden if restriction were not required because at least the following reason(s) apply:

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
